Working Well Workshop

Did you know that a poorly maintained water well can put your water supply at risk of contamination and reduce your well yield?

If you are one of 600,000 Albertans who use their water well for household purposes, the key to ensuring your water supply is safe and secure is knowing how groundwater works, learning about your well and understanding how to properly maintain it.

Proper well siting, construction, maintenance and plugging will help protect your well from biofouling and contamination, save you costly repairs, and ensure your well water yields are sustained over many years.

If you'd like to find out if your groundwater is at risk and learn what you can do to protect your well, attend a free water well management workshop being hosted by Lakeland Agricultural Research Association, and presented by the Working Well Program, with technical expertise from Alberta Agriculture and Rural Development, and Alberta Environment and Sustainable Resource Development on December 1st, 2016 at Flat Lake Hall with supper starting at 5:30 PM and the workshop starting at 6:30 PM. This hands-on, informative workshop is designed to help water well owners better understand and manage their precious groundwater supplies.

Consider how your life would change if you lost your water supply!

During the workshop we will cover:

- Groundwater - how it works
- Water Quality and Quantity Testing
- Well Protection - protecting your well from contamination
- Basic Well Maintenance
- Water Sampling - how to do it

December 1, 2016

Supper at 5:30 PM at Flat Lake Hall

Workshop starting at 6:30PM

59403-Range Rd 484

To attend the workshop, please pre-register by calling Kellie at the LARA Office at: 780-826-7260
