

The 2020-21 season, while full of challenges, is shaping up to be one of the best ski seasons ever at Kinosoo Ridge.

With having to adapt our operations to make sure we are protecting the health of our visitors and our staff, we have had to become innovative in the way we do things. That includes adding warming tents around the resort to give you a place to rest while the capacity of the chalet is reduced, having bathrooms available outside, and having to purchase your lift ticket/Tube Park pass and rentals for the day online. There will be no in-person lift tickets/ Tube Parks passes available.

Also during this time, be prepared for your vehicle to become your base of operations for the day. With limited chalet access, you will have to change into your boots in your car, eat any food not purchased in the chalet in your car, and be prepared to use your vehicle as a warming/rest area.

When it comes to the Tube Park, advanced planning is going to be a must this year. In order to maintain physical distancing regulations and offer a safe, sanitized environment and equipment, the Tube Park will have a set schedule of three, two-hour time blocks – 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., 12:45 to 2:45 p.m. and 3 to 5 p.m., with a 50-person limit per each two-hour slot.

The extra 15 minutes between each time block will allow for equipment switch over and to ensure there is no overlap between guests from one time block to another. We ask that you be at the chalet 15 minutes before your scheduled time to make sure you maximize your time and your fun!

Want more information? You can find our Frequently Asked Questions section at www.kinosoo.ca, or follow us at www.facebook.com/skikinosooridge for up to date information.